

Las Cienegas National Conservation Area (LCNCA)

The Las Cienegas National Conservation Area received its name from the cienegas, or marshes, which run the length of the Cienega Creek. The creek runs all year round which gives this area lush vegetation and a lively riparian area.

The national conservation area also includes a working cattle ranch. When traveling through the area please leave all gates as you found them.

Today there are more than 45,000 acres of rolling grasslands and woodlands in this southern Arizona location. The landscape ranges from oak studded hills, mountain ranges and lush riparian corridors. With the Cienega Creek running all year this provides the lifeblood of the LCNCA and supports diverse plant and wildlife communities.

Thanks to the efforts of local governments, elected officials and the public, the Empire and Cienega ranches, along with portions of the adjacent Rose Tree and Vera Earl ranches, are now under public ownership and managed by Bureau of Land Management (BLM) under the principles of multiple-use and ecosystem management for future generations to use and enjoy.

The BLM has formed a partnership with the nonprofit Empire Ranch Foundation, which is dedicated to preserving the historic buildings and surrounding landscapes

Visitor Activities

Wildlife viewing, birdwatching, primitive camping, picnicking, hiking, mountain biking, horseback riding, OHV use, historic site, hunting, photography and scenic drives.

Movies Filmed in LCNCA

The Las Cienegas could also be a Mecca to fans of classic films about the old west. John Wayne, Barbara Stanwick, Charlton Heston, Paul Newman, Lee Marvin, Kirk Douglas, William Holden, Burt Lancaster, Shelley Winters, Jennifer Jones, Steve McQueen, Gregory Peck, Spencer Tracy, Jimmy Stewart and others have made such classic films in or near the Empire Ranch. The historic Empire Ranch remains a working cattle ranch, complete with enchanting old headquarters, now operates under an innovative rangeland management style unique to the area.

These are some classic movies that have been filmed on or near the Empire Ranch: "Red River," "Duel in the Sun," "Hombre," "Winchester 73," "The Big Country" and others.

Arizona OHV Grant Program

The mission of the Arizona Off Highway Vehicle Program is to develop vehicular recreational opportunities and educational programs that promote user education, interagency cooperation and natural resource protection.

The Arizona Legislature created the OHV Program in 1991. The Legislature set the funding mechanism at 0.55 percent of the annual state motor fuel tax revenues. In 2009 the decal program began and today both funds are used for OHV projects.

Arizona State Parks administers the program azstateparks.com/ohv:

- 60 percent of the funds goes to OHV grants and agreements (12 percent is for administration of the program), road construction, development, maintenance, signage and maps of roads/trails;
- 35 percent goes to Game and Fish Department for law enforcement, education and outreach;
- 5 percent goes to the Arizona State Land Department for mitigation, signage and enforcement.

More information can be found at the Game and Fish website azgfd.com/ohv/.

Arizona OHV Decal Requirements

The OHV decal program is intended for vehicles designed by the manufacturer to travel over unimproved roads, to have a laden weight of 2500 pounds or less, and/or an engine greater than 49cc. A decal is required for use on all public and state trust lands and must be displayed in the upper left hand corner of your license plate. Pickup trucks, SUVs, cars and other recreational vehicles are not required to have an OHV decal.

The decal is not a registration and you are required to have a registration if you plan to travel on paved and improved roads and streets.

Arizona residents will need an Arizona certificate of title, insurance and an Arizona license plate. Decals can be purchased through any Motor Vehicle Division (MVD) office or azmvdnow.gov and are good for one year from date of purchase for each vehicle.

The cost of the decal is $25.

Non-Arizona residents will need to purchase an OHV decal for each vehicle they The decal must be purchased prior to riding in Arizona.

The non-resident decal is only available online through the Arizona Game and Fish Department at azgfd.com/OHV/Decals/
